

Gaskets

When new, the gaskets will be quite firm making the doors feel tight when closing. This is perfectly normal and in time the gaskets will bed together creating a near perfect weather tight seal massively reducing the chance of rain or wind from entering between them. Ambient temperature will also contribute to the length of time the bedding in process will take. All of our gaskets are manufactured to the highest standards and are specifically designed to allow for this bedding in period.